

Ports & Excursions

Fiordland National Park, New Zealand

New Zealand's largest national park was formed millennia ago by massive glacial flows that carved deep fiords into the coast of New Zealand's South Island. At the heart of Fiordland National Park lies Milford Sound. Lined by cliffs that soar nearly a mile above its surface, Milford Sound cuts into the heart of the Southern Alps. Rainforest clings to the cliffs and graceful waterfalls plummet into the void. Mile-high Mitre Peak dominates the upper reaches of the sound.

The town of Te Anau in Fiordland National Park is also your gateway to the South Island's other natural wonders including Lake Wakatipu, the resort of Queenstown and Mt. Cook National Park.

Points of Interest

1 Queenstown

This resort town on the shores of Lake Wakatipu is famed for its adventure tourism including para sailing, jet boating, skiing and bungee jumping.

2 Lake Wakatipu

The peaks of the Southern Alps and the Remarkable Ranges surround New Zealand's longest lake.
