Suva, Fiji

The Fiji archipelago is at the cross roads of the South Pacific. In the days of sailing ships, it was known as "The Cannibal Isles," where mariners carefully avoided its fierce warriors and perfidious waters. Thankfully, Fiji's pagan days live only in the tales recalled by tour guides - in rituals such as firewalking, Kava Ceremonies and in renditions of tribal drumming, dance and song.

Fiji is an exotic destination, with 333 islands that provide an exciting adventure or peaceful repose. The northwest region, where the sun shines almost every day and a tropical shower ends as quickly as it began, is home to the majority of the resorts. Suva, the political, administrative, educational and commercial center, has a backdrop of lush rainforest maintained by the inevitable "tropical downpour." The people of Fiji are the most multiracial and multicultural of all South Pacific island countries - this being reflected in churches of all denominations, mosques, temples and shrines.

Built around a reef-protected natural harbor, Suva, with its colonial buildings nestled alongside modern commercial venues, shops and local markets, parks and residential sprawl, is home to nearly half of Fiji's urban population.

Points of Interest

1 Fiji Museum & Thurston Gardens

The beautiful Gardens date back to 1913. A visit to museum offers the world's most extensive collection of Fijian artifacts, cannibal-era exhibits and the rudder from Captain Bligh's HMS Bounty.

2 Colo-I-Suva

This lush rainforest park offers just a touch of Indiana Jones. Take a dip in a natural swimming pool, follow a nature trail and keep your eyes ready to spot the many beautiful avian inhabitants.

3 Fijian Village

Experience how the locals live and learn of the customs that have been handed down for generations. You'll enjoy a traditional welcome as well as browse locally crafted handicrafts and souvenirs.

4 Fire Walking and Arts Village of Fiji

Enjoy a blend of fantasy and true local flavor all in a beautiful setting. See the amazing Beqa Firewalkers and be prepared to laugh, be amazed, and most importantly, have a unique experience.

5 Kava Ceremony

Don't miss your chance to join this important village tradition, like that of a Japanese tea ceremony. Visitors are presented with a bowl of kava or Yagona to drink as sign of welcome and respect.

6 Government House

Welcome to Fiji's President's official residence, built in 1928 after the original building was struck by lightning and burnt to the ground. Try to catch the majestic monthly Changing of the Guard.

7 Pearl South Pacific Beach Resort Break

Enjoy the islands' ultimate boutique retreat with its stunning beach and views of the Beqa and Yanuca Islands. Relax in the resort's facilities and savor a buffet lunch prepared by renowned chefs.

8 River Cruise Adventure

An idyllic adventure for an exhilarating ride upstream through very gentle rapids and past agricultural land, deep gorges, rain forest and cascading waterfalls.
