Discover Cambodia's ancient temples. Your tour flies into Siem Reap and journeys into the jungles and rural countryside to the Angkor Temples at Ta Prohm and Pre Rup Temple. The next day, you'll explore the enchanting Banteay Srei and Banteay Samre, spend the afternoon on a Remok (Tuk Tuk) tour of Angkor Wat and conclude with a fascinating cultural dance dinner show. On the final day travel to the magnificent Angkor Thom, "the great city."

Description:

Day 1: Get ready to explore the world's most largest and renowned Temples. Your morning of travel takes you from Klong Toey Port to Suvarnabhumi airport. You'll fly into the bustling Siem Reap airport and travel to the luxury hotel, Le Méridien, to check in. A delicious lunch is served at the hotel before you embark on a spiritual journey that begins with the Angkor Temples at Ta Prohm. This beautiful untouched area shrouded in the dense jungle was left largely in its natural state since its "re-discovery" by French explorers. Massive roots and limbs of banyan trees found in its labyrinth of stone hallways entwine and envelop the stone like tentacles. It is one of the largest temples at Angkor. This sacred destination towered by trees was built in 1186 by the King Jayavarman VIII. He dedicated it to his mother. As the sunsets your tour continues to the PreRup temple located northeast from Srah Srang. The warm tones, gorgeous countryside and stoic architectural design make this a captivating site. The temple built in 961 during the reign of King Rajendrarvarman and dedicated to Shiva Brahmanism was believed to have funerary associations. You'll ride back to the hotel and relax as you enjoy at sumptuous evening meal before settling in for the night.

Day 2:

Wake up to a delicious breakfast served at the hotel and then set off to Banteay Srei also known as "Citadel of Women." The delicacy of the well-preserved relief carvings have led some people to believe that it could have been carved by a woman. Its intricate carvings depict scenes of ancient Hindu tales along the pinkish solid sandstone walls of this enchanting miniature temple. The tenth century temple is dedicated to the Hindu god Shiva, the carved male and female figures in the niches are exquisitely executed in both style and proportion. Its architecture and decorations makes it the most Indian of all the temples in Angkor and in the words of H.W. Ponder, it is "a fairy palace in the heart of an immense and mysterious forest." Next, view the Angkor Wat-style architecture of Banteay Samre. This elaborate temple has been restored to its completion. The Hindu temple was built under Suryavarman II and Yasovarman II in the early 12th century and named after the Samré, an ancient people of Indochina. The temple uses the same materials as Banteay Srei. After your tour, you'll return to hotel where lunch is served. Then, spend the afternoon taking the Remok (Tuk Tuk) tour to visit the Angkor temple complex, the largest temple in the world. Suryavarman II conceived Angkor Wat and it took an estimated 30 years to build. It's unlike all the other Khmer temples because it faces west, and it is inspired by 12th Century Hinduism. It is generally believed to have been a funeral temple for the king. It has been occupied continuously by Buddhist monks and is well preserved. Upon concluding your visit, you'll enjoy a festive dinner at Raffles Grand Hotel or equivalent that includes a cultural dance show.

Day 3:

Prepare to for a final day of Siem Reap's architectural wonders. After breakfast, you'll experience the monumental magnificence of Angkor Thom, "the great city." It is the last capital of the Khmers Empire, and it was established in the late 12th century by King Jayavarman VII. The city's built in a perfect square and has five monumental gates. Description:

Day 1:

Discover the architectural treasures and renowned monuments of Bangkok on your tour. Set off on a two and a half hour drive and arrive in the "City of Angels." You'll check into either the Royal Orchid Sheraton or similar hotel and prepare for your day of exploration with a delicious meal. After your meal, travel to Wat Traimit, also known as the Temple of the Golden Buddha. Within its opulent setting sits a 15-foot tall image of Buddha weighing five and half tons in mostly pure gold. Your tour drives through Chinatown and stops for a short walk at the local flower market blooming with colorful, bright and exotic floral arrangements. You'll continue on your motor coach to Wat Pho, the most extensive temple in Bangkok, with its colossal reclining Buddha and the Chedi of the Kings. Wat Pho is also the leading school for the traditional Thai massage. After your transfer, you'll return to the hotel to enjoy the afternoon at your leisure.

In the evening, step aboard a converted rice barge for a dinner cruise along the scenic Chao Praya River. Savor the sights, sounds and breath-taking scenery as you pass the beautifully lit Wat Arun, Grand Palace to Krung Thon Bridge and the gorgeous Bangkok skyline. A delicious Thai-styled dinner with amazing appetizers, entrees, desserts and soft drinks are served.

Your boat stops at Asiatique the Riverfront, for a lively shopping experience at a night bazaar. Browse and try your hand at bargaining for thousands of local products ranging from food, clothing, household products, art, antiques and handicrafts. A guide will offer tips on how to return to the hotel if you choose to linger at the market. Or, you can return to hotel and rest up for the next day's adventures.

Day 2:

After an appetizing breakfast at the hotel, board your motor launch for a journey into the canals and river tributaries that traverse this fascinating city. As you explore the area, you'll pass rustic homes built on stilts above the water and clustered along the river's edge. You'll arrive at the Wat Arun, known as the "Temple of Dawn." Its 260 foot spire silhouette is often recognized as the symbol of Thailand. The temple is built on the site of the palace King Taksin during the 18th century. Your motor launch continues to Royal Barges Museum. The barges are fabulously ornamented boats with many gilded and gold. They are used during Thai festivals and processions along the river. The King's barge is over 160 feet long and requires a crew of 50 specially trained oarsmen. After the brief trip, you'll visit the impressive Grand Palace adorned with extensive murals, gilded spires and fantastic architectural designs. The sacred image of the Buddha sits high atop a golden throne in the Wat Phra Kaew, known as the "Temple of the Emerald Buddha." It was carved from a single piece of jade in the 15th century. The Buddha guards the sovereignty of the Kingdom and the religious beliefs of the people.
